JD Brown Benefit Auction

April 28-29, 2023

www.cowbuyer.com

The auction is completely ONLINE. Watch Cowbuyer.com for the catalog of items.

Create an Account, Register to Bid and Bid often!

The Benefit Auction will be in a soft close format. When the auction closes they will close two at a time. If someone bids during that time it will reset another two minutes for that item to allow another person to bid. If no one bids in that two minute window the lot will close to the winning bidder.

If the item is available the day of the auction, payment will be due before the buyer can take the item. If the item is not available, the buyer will be emailed an invoice and payment due within 7 days. Buyer responsible for shipping, unless otherwise specified.

If you have questions during the auction, please contact Laura Jackson (540-272-0140) or Terry Perotti (540-820-4342).

Historical Virginia Farms

TWO LOTS – Two Prints

Donated by Walter McClure

HISTORICAL VIRGINIA FARMS - 95% of all Registered Holstein Genetics World Wide trace to these three farms.

ROCBY Holsteins

ROCBY HOLSTEINS was originally a partnership between Nelson Gardner and John Wampler. Nelson became sole owner in the late sixties. In 1968 Rocby Holsteins sold a bull they had proven, Rocby Ivanhoe Dina Charm, to VABA, Md-WVa Bull Stud, LAABC and TNABA. A new Rocby was on the way, controlled by Nelson. Rocby sold or leased over 50 bulls to A.I. companies for their young sire testing programs. The 1982 Rocby Invitational Sale, co-managed by Windswept Holsteins and Backus Associates, grossed $1,016,650 for an average of $14,949. The 1984 Rocby Windswept ET Sale, held at the Homestead, was a Picture/Pedigree sale and grossing $1,516,200 for an average of $13,784. However, Nelson's real contribution was as a progressive industry leader. He was a board member and president of VABA during the merger creating Select Sires, and continued on the Select Sires Inc. board. In 1977 he was elected to the Holstein Association of America Board of Directors. Additionally, Nelson served as a board member and president of the Virginia Holstein Association and the Virginia State Dairyman's Association. His favorite position was as a board member and president of Shenandoah Pride Milk Producers and Processing Plant for 30 years. He arranged the successful sale of the Processing Plant to Dean Foods. This sale added a bonus payout to all of Shenandoah Pride producers.

Round Oak Farm

ROUND OAK FARM was established in 1916 by Charles and Nora Hope. Ronald Hope was the youngest of three children, working at Round Oak his entire life. Charles and Ronald Hope were attracted to Rag Apple Bloodlines. All of the early sire sires and most of the foundation females purchased, traced back to the key foundation sire Johanna Rag Apple Pabst. From the beginning JRAP blood was woven into the fabric of the Round Oak herd. Ronald was an astute breeder, always thinking about which crosses he would make in the next generations. Walter McClure related a story about a time when he made a sales call when he worked for Virginia Animal Breeders. Ronald asked him to order 50 units of Penstate Ivanhoe Star. When Walter asked how he was going to use Ivanhoe Star, Ronald replied that he wanted to have it in inventory to use on future generations when "the time was right". Round Oak Rag Apple Elevation, "The Holstein Bull of the Century", traces twenty times to Johanna Rag Apple Pabst on the maternal side, and eleven times to Wisconsin Admiral Burke Lad on the paternal side. "The time was right" and Ronald, with advice from George Miller, made the decision to breed Round Oak Ivanhoe Eve to Tidy Burke Elevation. This mating produced Round Oak Rag Apple Elevation, the Greatest Holstein Bull for all Generations.

East View Farm - Walkup Holsteins

EAST VIEW FARM - WALKUP HOLSTEINS was established in 1877 by Daniel Myers' great, great grandfather Jackson Showalter. Jackson's grandson Victor and his wife Margaret Myers, parents of Daniel, assumed ownership of the farm in 1941 until 1968 when their son Daniel and his wife Charlotte assumed ownership. Daniel and Charlotte, prompted by daughter Teresa's interest in showing cows, decided it was time to bring new genetics to the herd. The first Virginia Sale of Stars was held on August 3, 1973 featuring outstanding daughters of Elevation. Teresa purchased Willowlyn Elevation Lou, consigned by Willowlyn Farms. Lou was later scored EX-91 and, more importantly, bred to Paclamar Astronaut, resulting in daughter Walkup Astronaut Lou Ann EX-94, a three-time Junior All American. Lou Ann's Valiant bred heifer was a feature of the 1983 Virginia National Holstein Convention Sale, purchased by Rothrock Holsteins for $36,000.00. Walkup Vallant Louella EX-93 was a featured cow at Rothrock with many of her sons going into A.I., especially to Europe. Lou Ann was voted #3 in the world in Holstein International's Cow of the Century Contest.
